

JNO. SHERMAN TALKS

Gives Mr. Platt a Chance to Explain.

CONVENTION OF '88 RECALLED.

General Alger's Agent, He Says, Bought the Southern Delegates Against Him. Garfield a Brilliant Man, but Weak in Will Power—Recommended Windom For Secretary of the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Senator John Sherman of Ohio talked freely to a reporter yesterday in regard to his recently published book and other matters. He said in part:

"I would like to read Mr. Platt's answer to what I stated concerning the national convention of 1888," he said, in reply to a question. "The fact is, I desire to know just what his explanation would be. It would be interesting to me. Personally, I have nothing against him, and what I stated in my book was without malice, and merely introduced as a matter of history. I felt that in the interest of history, I should tell things as they were, and in a dispassionate way."

"Have you seen Mr. Platt since you arrived?"

"I saw him at a distance only."

The senator stated that he had met ex-President Harrison and Warner Miller and had had pleasant chats with them. He added that Mr. Miller came to his (the senator's) room last evening and they talked over many of the incidents of the convention of 1888. Mr. Miller's recent relation of events tallied with the senator's.

"The New York delegation," added the senator, "had a banquet on the Saturday night before the convention of 1888, and after Senator Miller had made a speech they all agreed to support me. I received a telegram to that effect. Sunday intervened, and in the meantime Elkins and other friends of Harrison got Mr. Platt to agree to vote for him on the first ballot Monday. The result is known. I have no charges to make against ex-President Harrison, and our relations are pleasant. Whatever bargains or promises his friends might have made, he did not sanction them because he absolutely refused to appoint Mr. Platt secretary of the treasury. Promises may have been made in regard to federal patronage in this state, and I do not criticize that specially. Mr. Platt's men, I believe, received appointments in the state, notably the collectorship. The name of Mr. Platt's assistant seems to be to hold the portfolio of secretary of the treasury."

In regard to the national convention of 1860, when Garfield was nominated, he said that when he saw the drift was for Garfield, he telegraphed to his friends to swing the Ohio delegation for him.

"Garfield was an able and brilliant man in some respects," he continued, "but he did not have strong will power. He permitted men of stronger will force to influence him. I well remember that after he was elected president and had selected Mr. Blaine as secretary of state, he came to me and said that he would like to appoint me secretary of the treasury, but Mr. Blaine thought it would be embarrassing to the other members of Mr. Hayes' cabinet to select one member and not take them all."

The senator alluded to the sophistry of Mr. Garfield and continued: "I informed him that I did not desire to be appointed secretary of the treasury, and announced my intention to become a candidate for the senate. This announcement was a great surprise to him and his friends, because they had all arranged for him to run ex-Governor Charles Foster for the senate. But I would not have accepted the treasury appointment even if I had not been a candidate for the senate. There was not great coldness existing between Garfield and myself, because I remember I wrote to him in reply to a letter, advising him to appoint Mr. Windom secretary of the treasury, which he did."

"Did you hear that General Alger intended to answer you soon?"

"No; I do not believe he has read my book yet."

"He will answer that part which refers to the buying of delegates at the convention in 1888."

"I shall be glad to read his answer. My relations with General Alger have been pleasant. I simply wrote history. It was his agent who acted for him that I charged with doing the work."

The senator said he considered Warner Miller a strong man and remarked that he had made an able senator. He turned his attention to Secretary Carlisle's speech. The basic error of the speech, he maintained, was the secretary's view that legal tenders could be done away with entirely. It could not be done.

He said this in substance: "The great mistake was in the way the Democratic administration had tampered with the gold reserve. It should have issued short bonds of five years' duration which the people here would have taken up at 3 per cent, and with this paid the expenses of the government instead of trenching on the gold reserve. These short bonds, of course, would have been paid for in legal tender notes. Instead of doing this the administration had permitted domestic and foreign bankers to clear $11,000,000 by selling bonds for gold at 4 per cent. Carlisle's plan proposed last night was impracticable. There are 3,000 national banks, and it would not do, in order to have currency, to take the gold out of the United States treasury and scatter it around in these banks to redeem money that had been issued by these banks."

The senator said he did not know when the Republicans would be able to organize the senate. When it came to an issue in regard to money he thought the east would be against the west, irrespective of party. As long as Cleveland was president, he said, there would be no silver legislation, because he favored sound money.

STEVE ELKINS SUED.

He Is Made Defendant in a New Mexico Land Suit.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The hearing of a suit in which William C. Revecher sued United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia to recover an interest claimed by him in certain lands in New Mexico and also for an accounting, was commenced yesterday before Judge Patterson in the special term of the supreme court. It is claimed by the plaintiff that in 1871 Mr. Elkins purchased some land in New Mexico, in which the plaintiff was to have an interest of one-third, and that a deed to that effect was executed, under which his interest in the land was to be held in trust for him by the defendant. Mr. Elkins, he alleges, has sold a portion of the land, and has received a considerable amount from its sale for which he has never accounted.

Senator Elkins acknowledges that he purchased the lands and that on Oct. 17 he signed a deed under which Revecher was to become entitled to one-third of the lands on paying him $1.25 an acre for them. This was, he avers, the only paper he ever executed. The plaintiff, the defendant alleges, agreed to pay this price for it and said he expected to pay the $1.25 per acre in a short time, but never did so.

He finally told the defendant he was not in a position to carry out his agreement and relinquished his interest in the lands. Under these circumstances Senator Elkins says he sold the portion of the lands claimed by Revecher to T. D. Catron on the same conditions as they had been previously held by the plaintiff, who, he states, has now no interest in the property. He also pleads that Revecher's claim is barred by the statute of limitations.

The case has not concluded.

WALLER INCLUDED.

French Government Said to Have Granted Amnesty to Madagascar Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Although the state department absolutely refuses to confirm or deny a report that the French government has refused to furnish it the record in the Waller case, some difficulties, it is known, have been encountered in procuring this indispensable document. Just what the nature of the trouble is can not be learned, but it is understood that the application for the record is not regarded by the French government as a matter of right in the United States, and it is assumed that if our application takes more the shape of a request than a demand, the necessary documents may be forthcoming.

Meanwhile the Waller case itself may be suddenly settled, so far as the liberation of Waller is concerned, by the voluntary action of the French government, as word has come here from official sources to the effect that it is contemplated to proclaim amnesty for all political prisoners taken in Madagascar, which would include Waller, unless some special notice be taken of his case and claim.

WILD MAN OF WISE RIVER.

The Secret of Pettigill, the Hermit, Dies With Him.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 21.—Pettigill, the wild man of the Wise River mountains, has been found dead in his mountain retreat. Pettigill came to Montana during the early period of the war and had ever since lived alone among the wild animals of the Wise River mountains. Nothing has ever been learned regarding his life before coming to Montana, though several stories are told concerning his reasons for retiring from civilization. Pettigill had knowledge of a fabulously rich gold vein, but never disclosed its location, though he gave to a party of hunters some quartz that assayed $50,000 a ton.

Vessels Saved.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The steamer Irawaddi, which went ashore Nov. 9 while on the voyage from Trinidad to this port, and was hauled off yesterday, is anchored off the Merritt Wrecking company's wharf at Stapleton. The Norton line steamer Manitoba, from South American ports, which went ashore at Beech Haven, south of Barnegat on Monday last, arrived in port yesterday evening, having been released. The Manitoba is not leaking and suffered no apparent damage.

Huffman, the Outlaw, Killed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 21.—Frank Huffman, the notorious outlaw, who has long defied the authorities, was killed last night by Sheriff Moore of Hickory county, 50 miles northwest of here. Huffman was leader of the Otterville train robbery on the Missouri Pacific railroad and broke jail in Howard county eight months ago. Since then he has been hiding in the hills of Hickory and Cedar counties. Particulars of the killing are hard to obtain.

Shiners Shot.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 21.—United States Marshal Kilbourne and three deputies made an extensive raid on moonshiners yesterday in Wise county, Va., just over the Kentucky line, destroying a dozen illicit stills, with a capacity of 2,000 gallons. In the fight between officer and moonshiners three of the latter were seriously wounded and one officer received a painful shot in the mouth.

IRONTON, O., Nov. 21.—The will of Miss Clara Campbell was presented for probate last night. Her jewels, of which she had gems culled from the choicest collections of Europe, are bequeathed to Nora Scott, Elizabeth McClure, Florence Campbell, Alice Campbell Neal and Mrs. Mary Lillian Neal Hunter of London, England. Her brothers, Charles Campbell of Ironton and Albert Campbell of Chicago, receive but $500 each, while her cousins, Jane, Laura and Elizabeth McClure, get an annuity of $365 jointly.

The large share of her fortune, estimated at $100,000, goes to the Neal girls, and upon their death the principal and proceeds shall be converted into money and paid to the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, incorporated under the laws of Ohio. The balance of the estate is bequeathed to the International Missionary alliance, incorporated under the laws of New York. William A. Murdock of this city is named as executor and trustee.

ON THE BRIDGE

He Killed Himself Just as He Said He Would.

HAMILTON, O., Nov. 21.—An especially sensational and tragic suicide took place at a late hour Tuesday night in Somerville, Butler county, about 10 miles from this city. William Beeler, aged nearly 21 years, the son of a well-known citizen of Somerville, called on a young lady friend, Miss Edith Hoel, and while her guest about 11 o'clock he said he had had trouble in his family and that he intended to kill himself on the turnpike bridge on his way home. She took up heed of what he said and laughed at his threat, thinking he was fooling her. Young Beeler, however, kept his word, as on his way home he stopped on the bridge and, drawing a revolver from his pocket, shot himself in the left temple, killing himself instantly. The girl heard the shot, but thought he had fired it for a bluff. His remains were found about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning and were taken to his home. The family is prominent and young Beeler stood high. He was unmarried.

THE CUT-OFF OUT OF ORDER.

Motorman Rogers Testifies in the Viaduct Horror.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21.—The most important witness examined yesterday at the coroner's inquest in the Central viaduct horror, was Augustus Rogers, the motorman of the ill-fated car which plunged into the river. He testified that the conductor ran ahead when the car stopped at the safety switch, and signaled him "all right." He stated that the glass in the vestibule was blurred by rain and that he did not discover that the bridge was open until his car was within about 30 feet of the span. He then turned off the current, set the brake and jumped. He testified that he saw no red light, and believed that there had been one displayed, he would have seen it. He admitted that he had been misled by the fact that the electric cut-off, provided by the street railway company as a safeguard, was out of order.

Two other witnesses examined swore that the red light was displayed over the gates when the car struck them.

Won't Bolter Bushnell.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21.—Last September C. M. Williams, secretary and treasurer of the Union Depot company, left a pocketbook containing $5,000 at a saloon for safekeeping, and the next day George Pepper, a guard at the penitentiary, presented an order for the pocketbook which subsequently proved to have been forged. Pepper immediately disappeared, but was found here and arrested yesterday, and he may find a position at the penitentiary under the new administration for which he will not have to bother General Bushnell.

Dow Law and Whisky Brokers.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21.—Hon. Fred Spiegel, county solicitor, appeared before the supreme court yesterday to argue the case of the county auditor against Henry W. Voss, involving the right to tax whisky brokers under the Dow law. Mr. Wilby appeared for Voss. Mr. Spiegel also took depositions of Chief Engineer Perkins and Clerk McClean of the state board of public works, to be used in the Mitchell avenue case arising from the collapse of the canal aqueduct over Mitchell avenue.

MIAMISBURG, O., Nov. 21.—Mr. Frank S. Nelson, secretary and treasurer of the Enterprise carriage works and well known in business circles in Cincinnati, was married to Miss Etta Engleman of Union Bridge, Md.

BOWLING GREEN, O., Nov. 21.—George M. Rohrbach, a horseman, was taken to Wallace county, Wisconsin, by Sheriff Hollister of that county for obtaining goods under false pretenses.

MISSING.

Calvert Vaux, Landscape Architect of National Reputation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Calvert Vaux, the famous landscape architect of the park department, is missing. The police today were requested to look for him.

Mr. Vaux left his son's house in Bensonhurst, where he has been staying for some time, about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for a short walk, and when he did not return late last night the family became alarmed, and this morning the police were notified and a general alarm sent out in both cities.

Mr. Vaux's health has not been good for some time.

Inquiries have been made by the family at the various hospitals of the two cities without result.

Calvert Vaux is a landscape architect of national reputation. He was born and educated in London and came to this country in 1848. He designed Central park in this city, and Prospect park in Brooklyn, and was associated with Frederick Law Olmstead in laying out Riverside and Morningside parks. He also assisted in laying out the Smithsonian institute grounds in Washington.

TELL-TALE WRECKAGE.

Parts of a Vessel's Gunwale and Cabin Found at Charlevoix.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from Charlevoix, Mich., last night, stated that fishermen at the point two miles north of there reported wreckage coming ashore. One jacket life preserver was marked "L. G. Corning," and parts of a vessel's gunwale and cabin were also picked up. There is no boat named L. G. Corning on the lakes, but it is possible the wreckage might be from the schooner Ida Corning, the word "Ida" being mistaken for "L. G." The Ida Corning passed Port Huron, bound up, Nov. 16, in tow of the steamer Oscoda, since then there is no record of her whereabouts. She is owned by Corning & Ryan of Saginaw, Mich. She measures 422 tons and carried a crew of seven.

MORE MARINES NEEDED.

Colonel Heywood's Strong Plea to the Secretary of the Navy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Colonel Charles Heywood, commanding the marine corps, in his report to the secretary of the navy, makes a strong plea for an increase in the enlisted strength of the corps to meet the additional duties imposed upon it by the increase of the navy. Colonel Heywood estimates that 1,500 marines on shore are needed for the protection of millions of dollars' worth of government property in their charge, a number 300 in excess of the marines now engaged in that duty. In addition to this, it is estimated that about 450 more men will be required for the new vessels under construction.

SIX HUNDRED PERISHED.

Further Facts About the Kung Pui Explosion.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 21.—The Empress of China, just arrived from the Orient, reports cholera practically extinguished in Japan and few interesting developments in the eastern situation. All the Asiatic coast, when she sailed, was looking to Kin-Chow, where on Oct. 18 a combined boiler and magazine explosion on the troop ship Kung Pui sent 600 men to death. The affair was fraught with peculiar horror, as a rough sea was raging and there was no chance of life overboard. The boilers were old and unserviceable and ordinary caution would have prevented the catastrophe.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21.—Alvin Carl, one of the receivers of the Otis Steel company composed of English capitalists came to Cleveland on business connected with the organization of the concern. He said it had been settled that the works would be kept here and operated on a much more extensive scale. A large sum of money will be invested in improvements. The details of the plan will not be made public at present.

ORDER IN ASIA MINOR

Armenian Women Converts to Islamism.

SYMPATHY FOR THE TURKS.

American Missionaries Have Been Especially Protected—Armenian Patriarch Appeals to the Powers For Money, Food and Clothing to Guard Against Famine. Released Prisoners.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 21.—The six representatives of the powers held a conference yesterday to discuss certain supplementary measures which will be recommended to the porte for the restoration of order in Asia Minor, and it is understood that some form of common action for the protection of foreigners is impending.

According to Turkish accounts, the Armenians provoked the disturbance at Marsovan and it is also said that the American missionaries there were not in any way molested.

Reports received here from the interior of Asia Minor announce fresh conversions of Armenian women and children to Islamism.

The concentrating of Turkish troops at Marash for the advance upon Zeitoun, which is still held by the Armenians in strong force, continues as actively as possible under the circumstances. The commanding general declares that unless the Armenians of Zeitoun and its vicinity are subjugated within a fortnight the campaign is likely to be both protracted and difficult, as heavy snows and bad roads which are to be expected soon, will hinder the operations of the troops.

Advices from Aleppo say that all the American citizens at Aintab, Orfah and Mardin are safe under the protection of the Turkish authorities of the places mentioned. The Turks, it now appears, are really taking steps to protect life and property.

Armenian refugees who have arrived here from the different provinces from which they fled at the time of the recent massacre have petitioned the patriarch to assist those of their coreligionists who were unable to get away, as famine is threatening their country and that the most terrible sufferings may be anticipated when the cold weather sets in, thousands of Armenian families being without shelter.

The Armenians ask the patriarch to appeal to the different countries of Europe for money, food and clothing, as it seems next to impossible for the Turkish government to do anything effective in the way of assisting the distressed people.

There has been some sharp exchange of messages recently between the Armenian patriarch, the Turkish ministers and foreign ambassadors. The patriarch was desirous of calling in person upon the minister of interior of other government officers for the purpose of placing certain complaints before them, and to tender his services in the work of relief and reform. But it appears, the Turkish officials positively refused to receive him in audience until he shall have published an encyclical condemning the alleged intrigues and demands of the Armenians. As it has been demonstrated that the Turks in the great majority of cases were to blame for the massacres and as the sultan has agreed to the powers' scheme of reforms for Armenia, the patriarch was unable to issue such an encyclical for it would practically admit that the demands of the Armenians were not justified and it is believed have considerably hindered the work of reform.

Consequently, the patriarch made an appeal to the ambassadors and placed before them the strongest evidence he could procure regarding the massacres which have recently occurred and begged them to use their influence to put an end to this condition of affairs. He was assured that everything possible under the circumstances would be done and was being done; but the patriarch was informed, evidence had been furnished which established beyond any reasonable doubt the fact that the agents of the Armenian revolutionary committee had been actively at work, inciting the Armenians against Turkish rule and that the Armenians themselves were to blame for a number of outbreaks which had occurred, although this did not justify the bloody revenge afterwards taken by the Turks.

The police are not making so many arrests today and a number of Armenians have been released from the different prisons where they have been confined for some time past.

The reason given for their unexpected release is that the police have not been able to find evidence against them which would justify their further incarceration. The released prisoners make the most startling statements as to their treatment while in custody, and tell horrible tales of the filthy and overcrowded condition of the Turkish prisons.

They say they were barely given enough food to keep body and soul together, and that they were beaten and otherwise tortured daily in order to compel them to betray what they know of the organization of the Armenian revolutionary committee. But, they add, all these efforts to make them traitors were in vain.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21.—A snowstorm accompanied by a northwesterly gale has prevailed on Lake Erie since midnight, causing such a tremendous sea that very few vessels are attempting to enter or leave the harbor. It is believed, however, that a number of boats were caught out in the gale.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1895.

Generally fair; preceded by light local snows in the early morning; variable winds; slightly warmer by Thursday evening.

The Populists expected to poll 50,000 votes in Kentucky at the late election. They got a little over 16,000.

Some people who are everlastingly prating of their Americanism haven't enough of the genuine article to fill a mustard seed.

The colored people of Boston are protesting against the lynching of negroes in the South. Now why don't they protest a little against the lynching of negroes in the North?

Messrs. J. W. Fitzgerald, Pat Sammons, W. S. Watson, H. E. Pogue, Ben T. Cox, Clarence Mathews, H. C. Sharp and Master Sam Daugherty went out to the Murphysville neighborhood this morning hunting, and if any rabbits escape they will have to hide in the ground-holes.

Another Republican to the front. The friends of Col. George W. Jolly, a well-known Republican lawyer of Owensboro, would like to see him get a good berth under the new administration. He would be an honor to the State as its Senator, the gentleman's friends say. In fact, they think nothing at Republican hands is too good for him. He was United States District Attorney during the Harrison administration.

The Louisville Commercial, the Republican organ, says it hopes the Republican Legislature will have the courage to increase taxes. We hope so too. We will be willing to bear our share to see some of the old miserly Democrats, who voted the Republican ticket at the last election, squirm. If the new Auditor will send a good agent here we will put him on a trail where he can get money.—Carlsle Mercury.

Did any one ever hear of a Republican administration reducing taxation?

Hon. Ed. Porter Thompson, who has been Superintendent of Public Instruction for one term, is thinking of contesting the election of his Republican opponent, the Hon. W. J. Davidson, of Pulaski County, whose majority was something like 9,000. Mr. Thompson claims that Mr. Davidson was at the time of the November election the County Superintendent of Schools in Pulaski County, and that for that reason his election as State Superintendent is void. Mr. Thompson will probably find out that a contest would do him no good. When Mr. Davidson accepts the office of State Superintendent he will forfeit that of County Superintendent, unless he first resigns the latter position.

SMALL TOWNS.

They Now Offer More Inducements to Manufacturers Than Big Cities.

[from Age.]

It is curious to note the development of special tendencies, from time to time, among manufacturers. Not long since a strong inclination was perceptible to seek locations in or near large cities, especially those having numerous railroad lines diverging from them to all points of the compass. Railroad connections appeared to be the prime consideration, and the more numerous they were the better the location seemed to be for the assembling of materials and the distribution of products. A decided feeling was manifested against dependence upon a single railroad system which had established, or might establish, arbitrary rates of freight, interfering with rational profits on manufacturing ventures. The ideal location was in immediate proximity to the tracks of two or more systems, which theoretically would compete for the traffic of the factory. A better supply of labor, either skilled or unskilled, was also to be expected in the vicinity of a large city, and at more reasonable wages than in an isolated locality with a limited population. For a time the decay of the small town seemed inevitable, as one factory after another in rural regions transferred its operations to the great railroad centers. Attention has been called to this phase of our national development by more than one writer, delving into statistics of population. The movement was brooked to some extent by strong influences in other directions, as, for instance, the discovery of natural gas in certain sections, causing the advantage of cheap fuel to outweigh the inducements presented by railroad centers.

Undoubtedly there was a time when it seemed to be almost necessary for a manufacturing establishment to be located in a populous district, with several railroad lines within reach, in order to conduct a good business. Those not so situated were either managed with signal ability, or made some very profitable specialty, if they continued to thrive. But that day has passed. Railroad traffic in our large cities is badly congested, and belt lines only partly relieve it. The individual manufacturer is not an object of special attention from railroad managers, but is merely a part of the conglomerate mass. It is a matter of days and sometimes weeks to secure the delivery of needed materials at a factory which have arrived at the city on a different railroad from that on which the establishment is situated. Shipments outward make equally unsatisfactory time. Further, if changes in business make a revision of railroad freight rates desirable, it must be done by the approval of a board of officials representing all the roads, and before the unwieldy body can be educated to a proper understanding of the subject a suffering industry may be ruined, or the occasion to secure profitable trade may have passed. A factory, therefore, may as well be located in the country to-day as in a large city, of course, due consideration being given to the fuel question, access to natural markets and a supply of labor. Consequently, within the past few years, factories have again been located in rural districts, and the movement in that direction is becoming noticeable.

A very important consideration in withdrawing from the vicinity of a large city is the labor question, which formerly operated the other way. The desirability of securing an ample supply of labor has paled into insignificance before developments of a much more important character. The unwarranted interference of trade unions with the relations existing between employers and employees, the turbulence manifested whenever strikes occur, the unceasing efforts of labor agitators to stir up strife, and the propagation of socialistic and even anarchistic doctrines are influencing manufacturers to get away from cities. They do not proclaim it loudly, and they will perhaps omit from an enumeration of the desirable points of a new rural location any reference to the labor problem, but nevertheless it has had much weight. Several very large concerns, employing thousands of men each, are known to have been directly influenced in favor of the places they finally selected by their desire to bring their workmen under as good influences as possible, and thus make them better citizens. Strikes may not always be avoided, labor disputes will perhaps be inevitable as long as the relation of employer and employee exists, but difficulties of this character can be minimized. This can best be done in rural districts.

THE STILLWELL CASE.

The Depositions Are Being Taken Behind Closed Doors.

HANNIBAL, Mo., November 19.—Regardless of the earnest request of Prosecuting Attorney Heather and of R. P. Giles, attorneys for the State in the Hearne case, to admit the press at the taking of the depositions in the Stillwell murder case, it is going on behind closed doors.

All witnesses so far subpoenaed will appear at Bowling Green on the part of the State at the trial. The only object of the defense in getting their testimony is to know what they will have to meet at the trial.

Two of the most important witnesses, however, have not been found—Dr. Vernette and Mrs. Dr. Gleason.

THEODORE CONOVER, who played on the Paris ball team several seasons, finished last season with Wheeling, W. Va. He pitched fourteen full games and came out victor eleven times. The two most critical times in a woman's life are the times which make the girl a woman, and the woman a mother. At these times, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is of incalculable value. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine, promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, checks unnatural, exhausting drains, and puts the whole delicate organism into perfect condition. Almost all the ills of woman-kind are traceable to some form of what is known as "female complaints." There are not three cases in a hundred of Pierce's peculiar diseases that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will not cure.

The following were selected as petit jurors: John R. Burgess, P. P. Parker, Charles Reed, R. B. Pompelly Jacob Cablish, H. H. Collins, John H. Elliott, J. W. Earley, Luther Hinsen, W. H. Smith, Joseph Cochran, Jesse Calvert, S. F. Fristoe, John Crain, George Rigdon, Benjamin Sweet, J. H. Rice, Oscar Calvert, George A. McCarthy, A. Donovan, John Clift, Benjamin Hawkins, Allie Coryell and H. A. Calvert.

Another Republican gets a position at Frankfort. Hord Loughridge, colored, was convicted of shooting and wounding a young man named Osborne, and was sent up for one year's work in the "pen." The shooting was done on the Lexington pike near this city, and was without provocation. This was Hord's second trial. He was given one year at the first trial.

GOT HIS CASH

By Working An Old Trick On Him. Joseph Grayson, of This City, the Victim.

The Cincinnati Post says: "Joseph Grayson, a resident of Maysville, Ky., was defrauded out of $32 by confidence men at the Grand Central depot Tuesday afternoon. Grayson was the victim of an old scheme.

"While he was sitting in the depot waiting for his train he was approached by two well-dressed strangers who engaged him in conversation. One of the men stated that he had a shipment of goods billed for Maysville, but that he was short $32 on the express charges. He asked Grayson if he could not advance the money and hold his valise for security until they reached Maysville.

"Grayson handed over the money and took the valise, which was apparently well filled. He waited for the return of the strangers until about train time and then told the story to Captain Lewis. The valise was opened and was found to contain a lot of bananas.

"The trick was reported at police headquarters and Detective Keating was detailed on the case. A good description of the sharpers was furnished."

Passed Through Fire and Water.

Louisville Post: "While searching around in the skeleton of the Alice Dean near Brandenburg Saturday afternoon a party of ladies discovered what they thought was the binding of an old book. They dug down in the sand that surrounded the object and ascertained that it was that famous old steamer's Bible. It was then tenderly removed, and is now held as a sacred relic of the days of the Confederate war. The Alice Dean was a Cincinnati boat and was caught a few miles below Louisville by Gen. John Morgan and his men, and for some military reason was burned, then set adrift to sink or swim, but it appears at this late day that the Bible passed through the whole ordeal unscratched, and has since been buried in the sand and water, only to be recovered in a readable condition still. It is said that all the ministers in the churches at Brandenburg dwelt on the recovery of this book in their sermons Sunday."

THE DRUMMER EVANGELIST.

An Exciting Incident in Which Rev. W. P. Fife Figured.

Evangelist B. Fay Mills in one of his sermons at Louisville, Ky., last week spoke of an exciting incident in which one of his co-workers for the cause of Christ figured. Commenting on the text, "Bless them that curse you," Mr. Mills said:

"Do you remember Mr. Fife, the commercial evangelist? He and Mr. Billhom were holding a meeting in North Carolina. Mr. Fife thought some people had been doing very wrong, and he spoke in stinging terms of their conduct. There was present a Judge and his four sons who thought the criticism intended for them. They got mad; said they would make Mr. Fife suffer. Mr. Fife's friends warned him. He went to the hardware store and bought two pistols; took them out in the woods and practiced.

"Mr. Billhom said to him: 'Jesus would not do this way.' Mr. Fife replied: 'I will follow Jesus.' He took the pistols back to the hardware store. That night the Judge and his sons dragged him from the hotel; beat him terribly, and would have killed him, but he was rescued. The assailants were arrested. There was great excitement. Forty of their friends appeared in court with sack-coats on, holding their hands on their hips. The attorney arose and asked that the court room be cleared of women and children. Great trouble was expected. Mr. Fife was called as a witness. He said: 'Your honor, I shall not say one word against Judge Shanks, unless compelled to do so. I am sorry this has happened. I said things I ought not to have said. I did not follow the instructions of my Master. I want to read His instructions. And he did so. 'If I have injured Judge Shanks,' he said, 'I want to be forgiven. I did not intend to speak so harshly.' Then, all bandaged up as he was, he walked over to Judge Shanks, and said: 'Judge, forgive me.' The Judge stood up, put his arms around him, and tearfully replied: 'Forgive you: I am the man that needs to be forgiven.'"

The people wept all over the court room. The Sheriff held up four warrants, those against the sons. He was an enemy of the Judge. "What shall we do with these?" he said. "Burn them up," someone replied. "I can't file them away." Then they sang the doxology. The Sheriff called out: "If this could happen in every court room our court houses would be houses of prayer and our prisons places of praise."

The average capacity is 4,200 hogsheds.

and everyone needs it at all times of the year. Malaria is always about, and the only preventive and relief is to keep the Liver active. You must help the Liver a bit, and the best helper is the Old Friend, SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR, the RED Z. Mr. C. I shall use it when in need, and recommend it."

Be sure that you get it. Always look for the RED Z on the package. And don't forget the word REGULATOR. CASTORIA for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The Ministers in Mt. Sterling Now Hold Religious Services in Court House County Court Day.

[Mt. Sterling Advocate.]
The usual court day exercises were varied by the introduction of a new feature Monday. After consultation the pastors agreed to try the experiment of spending an hour in religious services. The noon hour was chosen as most suitable, as it was thought to be a time of leisure and would not interfere with the date of court house officials.

The experiment was a success beyond all expectations. After a song had been sung on the steps the announcement was made that Rev. W. T. Tibbs would preach in the court house. In a few moments the room was filled by an attentive and eager crowd of men and after a speech proclaiming service by the ministers, Brother Tibbs delivered a timely and earnest sermon.

The religious service is to be a feature of court day hereafter. The ministers of the various churches will preach in rotation and arrangements will be made to have the singing an interesting element. It is designed to make the exercises entertaining and enjoyable as well as helpful and uplifting, and a hearty invitation is extended to all. Rev. A. J. Arrick will preach next court day.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

HOT! HOT!! HOT!!!

A Scorching Editorial on Corbett, Fitzsimmons and Others of Their ilk.

The New York Tribune thus administers an editorial flagellation across the expansive backs of Corbett and Fitzsimmons and gives 'em a knock-out blow:

Those contemptible sneaks and cowardly liars, Corbett and Fitzsimmons, who never intended to fight, except with their mouths, are preparing to travel over the country and exhibit themselves in so-called theatrical performances. It is amazing that such despicable windbags, without courage or sense of honor, can succeed in getting any one to attend the miserable caricatures of performance which they put upon the stage. Peter Maher, who is even more ignorant, stupid, coarse and brutal than even Corbett and Fitzsimmons, also intends to infest the theaters.

The tolerance of Americans is proverbial. They are the most patient and long-suffering people on earth. If they were not there would be a public uprising against the defilement of the stage by such nuisances as John L. Sullivan, James J. Corbett, Robert Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher.

And to all this good people everywhere will say amen.

All members of the degree team of Wyandotte Tribe, I. O. R. M., will please meet at their wigwag to-night at 7.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will agree that the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

of unsurpassed Land, of which about 460 acres in virgin Blue Grass, mainly covered with fine and valuable timber.

Abundant and never failing supply of water from natural sources, well distributed, and rendering this the best watered farm in Kentucky. Excellently fenced and subdivided. Handsomely and substantially improved with OPPOSITION TELEPHONE SERVICE.

Rival Companies at Logansport and Fort Wayne Branching Out.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Nov. 21.—The Logansport Mutual Telephone company, which was recently established here, is preparing to make extensions to a number of surrounding towns. Royal Center and Deer Creek, which have been clamoring for telephonic service for several years, are to be first accommodated, and extensions will then be made to Winamac, Kewanna, Rochester and a number of other points. The Bell Telephone company, in its fight with the new company, has laid great stress upon the fact that the latter is merely local in character, while their system reaches out to distant points, but Superintendent Overshiner states that he will soon be in a position to answer this last argument. George W. Beers, president of the Western Telephone and Telegraph company, which was recently organized at Fort Wayne, has written Mr. Overshiner that "if Indiana extension will likely touch the towns and cities having opposition exchanges. The two gentlemen will probably reach a satisfactory traffic arrangement."

WHIPPED A MASKED ROBBER.

A Farmer Puts Up a Gallant Fight Against Him.

WILLIAMSPORT, Ind., Nov. 21.—William Brown of Liberty township, operating a coal bank on Pine creek, was attacked by a masked robber while driving homeward from this city. Brown had brought a load of coal to market, and he had received pay for other coal, altogether about $30. The robber climbed into the rear of his wagon and demanded his money, threatening to cut his throat if he resisted. Brown replied with a right-hander, but the fellow parried his blow and a general tussle followed, in which Brown was cut on the arm, and his left coat sleeve was stripped with a knife. However, Brown finally succeeded in getting in a blow on the fellow's jaw which knocked him headlong out of the wagon, after which Brown laid whip to his horses and escaped.

Fratricide and Suicide.

ENGLISHTOWN, Ind., Nov. 21.—A case of fratricide and suicide is reported from Marietta, a boy 13 years old killing a brother two years younger, because he had reported the murderer to his father for playing truant, and then killing himself. It is further said that the murderer had long borne a reputation for viciousness, and that he was under suspicion of having burned his father's barn two years ago, in retaliation for corporal punishment inflicted by the father. Details of the double tragedy are unobtainable at this hour.

Poisoned by Impure Pork.

KOKOMO, Ind., Nov. 21.—The 38 inmates of the Howard county orphan's home were mysteriously poisoned, presumably from eating pork. County Physician Smith had the hardest kind of work saving the little ones, but all are now thought to be out of danger. The teachers and matron were likewise affected.

Silent Gally of Murder.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 21.—Ivan Kolev, Russian nihilist, who escaped from Siberia about two years ago, was found guilty yesterday afternoon of murder in the first degree for the killing of F. L. H. Weber and wife last December.

All Over but the Drip.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—The supreme court affirms the decision of the lower court in the Hayward case. The date of the execution will be set by the governor later.
